A love letter to my boyfriend whos graduating uni

I wanted to make a card for you to give at grad show, but I realized 2 pages weren't enough to express my love, admiration, and how proud I am of you.

You're done! I'm hoping you're reading this after grad show. To start, I want to say congrats, and you did it! I've watched the work you've been putting into this show and your final year, and I got to see a new side of you to love.

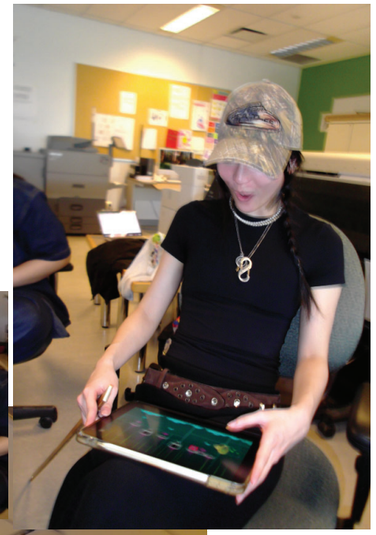

The effort and work you put into this grad show is something I've never seen from you, and it made me fall in love with you even more. I've never seen motion so well done in a grad show until this year. I love flaunting your work, saying yeah my boyfriend did this and people will always compliment your work like crazy. The love you poured into this show, even after everything, is admirable.

The Big Wins

You did a lot this year, even if you're not proud, I am. From your thesis, which came together beautifully, to VASA. Oh my god, how proud I am of you for VASA. Your art is amazing, and I love you and it so much. Even if you're not proud of the After Effects workshop, you did a great job by the end of it; people loved it. I haven't even scratched the surface.

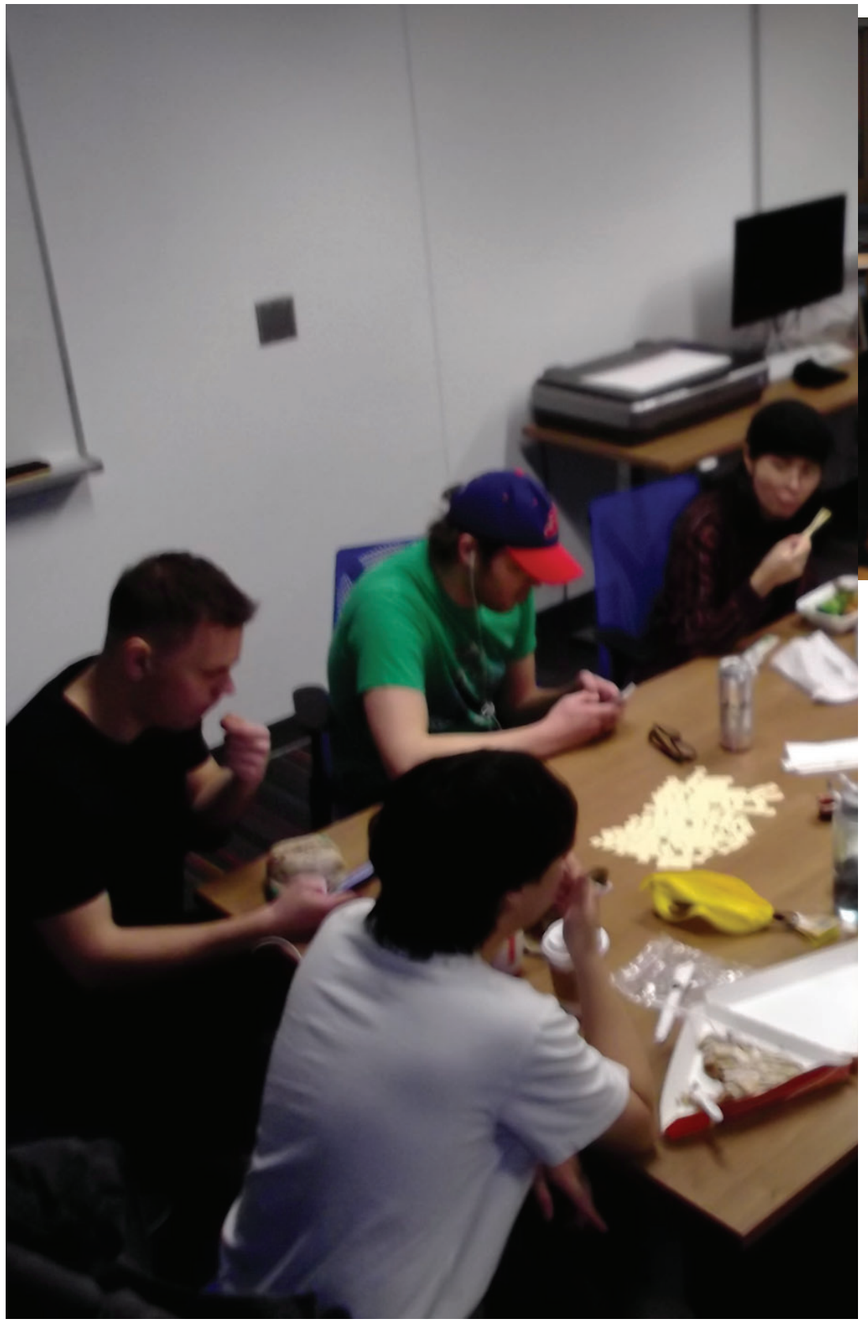

The many days and nights spent in the fablab

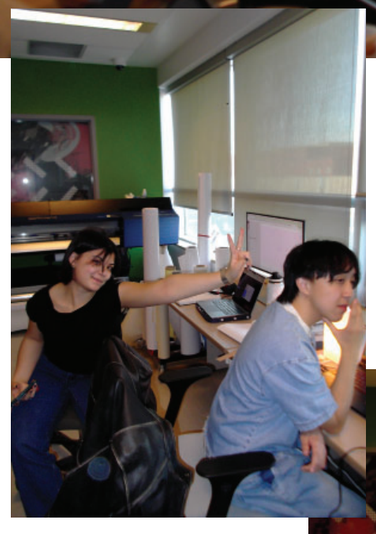

While you work on completing your game for the show, I've been thinking about our relationship and the school year. I'm so sad it's over the way I loved our time together during school and us hanging out in the Fablab together constantly.

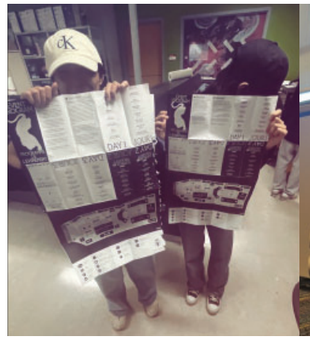

I know you love this space so much, and you're welcome to visit anytime next year. I mean every word I say when I say the best memories I've created are with you and our friends in the Fablab, hanging out, drinking, playing games, relaxing, stressing out and dying before brand-ing every week.

We did go to Vancouver though!

I remember your anxiety about going to Vancouver, and obviously, there were challenges there, but being able to travel with you brings me so much excitement for what the future holds for us. Spending that time in Vancouver meant the world to me. Being able to share my experiences and walking around a new city, getting lost in East Hastings together was so much fun. I also forever cherish the Gengar you got me.

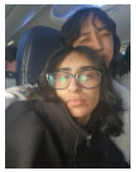

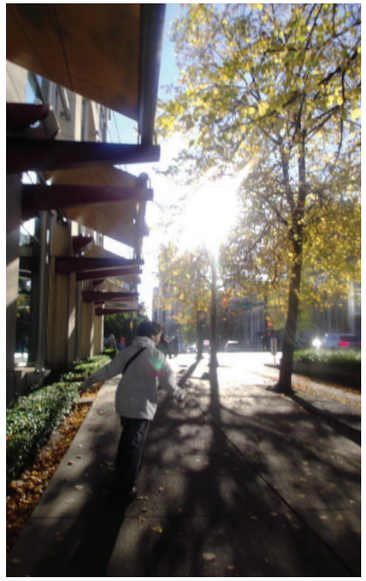

Going out and about

We didn't do it often...

I always forget we did so much in Vancouver...

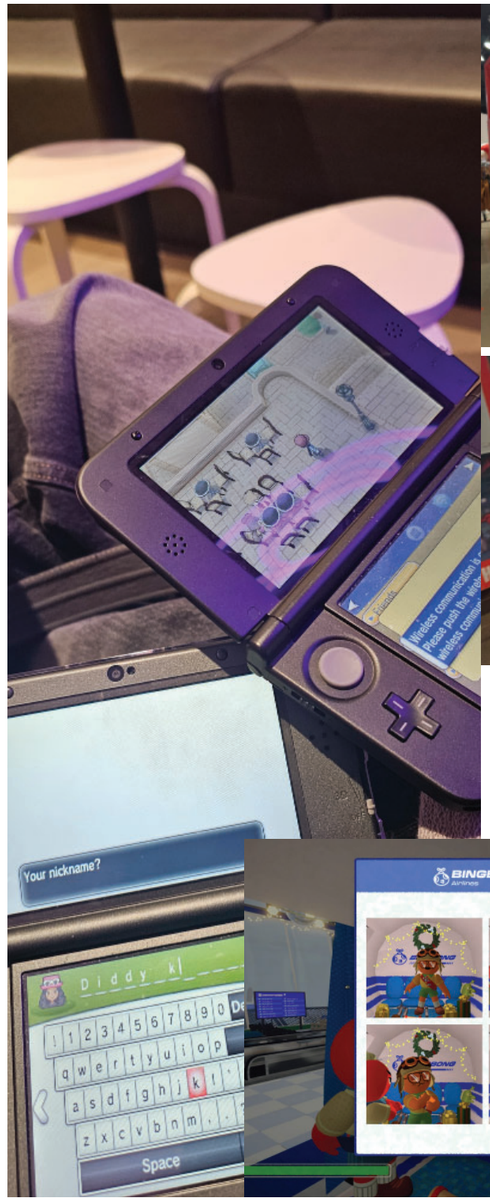

I also know that for you, being able to go on a trip with Shanthuru and Anton meant a lot, and I'm so glad you got to have fun with them and that you guys enjoyed yourselves. :)

Watching you grow has made me so happy and proud to love you.

I wanna talk about how much I love you because it's a lot. More than I love anyone in the world. I know we have had a few rough patches here and there, but I'm so happy to be with you.

I'm so proud to see how far you've come this year, literally learning a motion style(?) in a morning is so impressive, I'm jealous. I think you're amazing, Gabriel, I really do, and I know you will succeed in life and continue to live happily, and I'm happy to be by your side while I do my own thing.

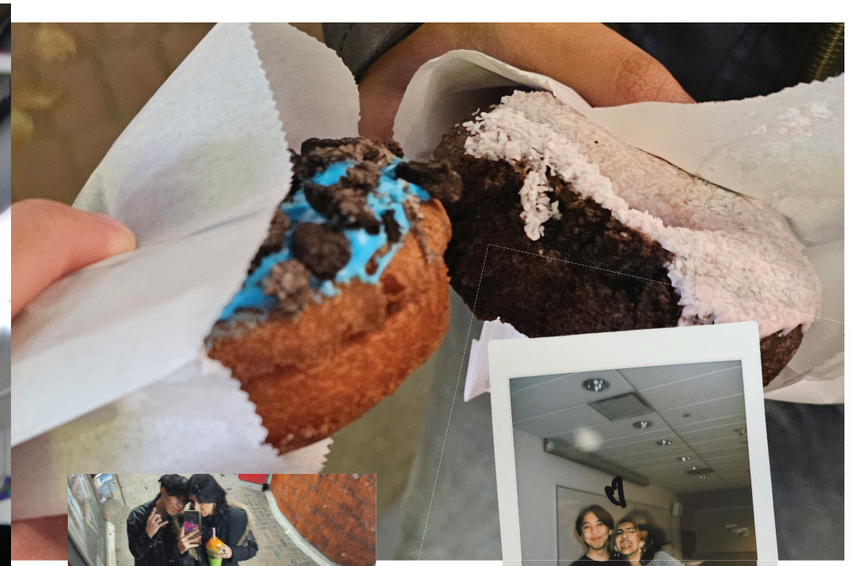

I also want to say I love the content you're making. I know I'm not the best at gift giving, so I hope this makes you smile.

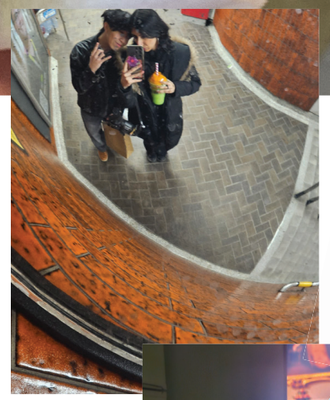

This was the best year of my life, and I want to have many more of these bests with you. <3

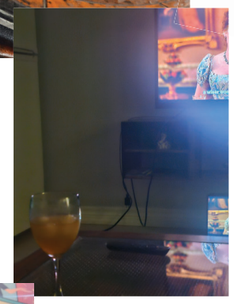

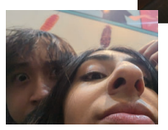

Playing games, exploring our hobbies together is one of the things I look forward too when we're together in person or online. I have so much fun being around you I want you to know how much I love you so I made this zine. I can't wait to support whatever you do in the future. (I totally love you more.)

I love you so much Gabriel - Duaa
